SUBJECT: Reliance Universal, Inc. - A. L. Taylor Site

As of June 19, 1980, the joint Reliance Universal/CECOS International, Inc. project for the clean-up operations (of 951 drums identified by Reliance) at the Valley of the Drums was completed.

The project's operation was in accordance to all standards, requirements and regulations discussed and agreed upon by Reliance and the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. Additionally, CECOS complied with every aspect of the Departmentally approved clean-up plant: from analyzing and batching for composite samples - to properly containing and disposing of all waste materials - to satisfactorily reinstating the site's integrity after completion of the on-site activities.

After two (2) site inspections, I feel satisfied that all drums (identifiable as belonging to Reliance Universal) regarding this subject matter have been removed from the Valley of the Drums. I, therefore, recommend that this project matter be considered concluded.

NOTE: I urge that the proper Departmental representative officially respond, in writing, to Reliance Universal, Inc. (attention to: Paul E. Brooks, Jr., Project Manager) regarding the finalization of records concerning the aforementioned operations.
